An appeal letter, accompanied by a sheet of the traditional gay-colored seals, was mailed to 41,101 homes in Tulare county yesterday, according to Miss Frances Marie Brey, chairman of the local campaign.

"The Silver Anniversary for the Easter Seal campaign comes at a time when there are more handicapped people than ever before — and when the cost of care and rehabilitation is at an all-time high", Miss Brey said in urging community-wide support for the appeal.

OPPOSITION TO POULTRY COUNCIL PLAN

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6 — Strong opposition to creation of a state poultry promotion council has been expressed by the poultry department of the Tulare County Farm Bureau.

The new council would be established under a bill that has been introduced by Richard McCollister, of San Rafael, in the current session of the state legislature.

The bill proposes that the poultry promotion plan be financed by a one cent tax per hundred pounds of chicken feed sold.

P. F. McCall, chairman of the county Farm Bureau's poultry department, states that formation of such a council is unnecessary, since existing law through marketing orders and agreements permits the adoption of farm commodity promotion programs by determination of the producers of the commodity concerned.

The bill is also opposed on the ground is that it would create a program by act of the legislature without producer referendum, and would impose a mandatory payment by every producer of poultry products.

The bill makes no provision for discontinuing the program if producers are dissatisfied with it, or if it is unsuccessful.

Farm Bureau policy, it is stated, "strongly supports the right of

A GOOD MOVE

Considerable traffic trouble some time in the future has been averted by a small act of initiative on the part of Cap Carleson, Porterville's city engineer.

In the state's planning of the new 190 route, east from the present intersection of 190 and old 65 highway, no special attention was paid to the intersection at the new 190 and Plano road.

Carleson, however, realized the tremendous amount of traffic that will cross this intersection in connection with Porterville State hospital personnel, tourists, and other travel, into the mountains; and general travel into the Plano and Vandalia districts.

So he sat down and designed a grade separation at this intersection, with Plano road passing over highway 190; he conferred with state highway engineers; they concurred, and now the grade separation is officially part of the tentative plan for this new section of highway.

It is not likely that the grade separation will be constructed immediately. But sometime in the future it will be needed; that is when we will be thanking Carleson for a little logical planning for the future before the future gets here.

Incidentally, some of the planning for Los Angeles freeways that Carleson did way back in the 1930s, is now coming into constructed reality just about as he planned it.

FLORIDA FREEZE LOSS SET AT 20 PER CENT

(From The Lindsay News)

LINDSAY, Mar. 6. — Although freeze damage to Florida citrus is not as bad as was first expected, it reduced the forecast from a record 102 million 90-pound boxes to 80 million boxes for the season — about a 20 per cent loss.

These facts were brought forth here last Wednesday night by Bruce Moore, manager of the Sun-kist field department when he spoke to some 300 local area growers in the Washington Elementary School multi-purpose room. Moore returned recently from a trip to survey the Florida freeze damage.

Helping to lessen the damage to the fruit, Moore pointed out, was the fact that the continued long cold spell tended to keep the fruit trees on the dormant side.

"As to the actual damage to the trees," Moore said, "no one can estimate that, as it is impossible to do so until new growth starts and the orange is set. Usually with oranges the crop is bigger following a freeze."

TUESDAY BONUS CONTEST RULES

Each week Porterville's Tuesday Bonus merchants will appropriate $25 to be awarded to the winner of a contest. Persons residing in the Porterville trade area, 18 years of age or over are eligible to enter this contest.

Secure an official entry blank from any Tuesday Bonus store and complete this sentence in 25 additional words or less: "I trade with Tuesday Bonus merchants because....."

Entries will be received at Tuesday Bonus stores. All entries will be judged each week and the person who, in the opinion of the judges, has submitted the best entry, will be declared the winner and will receive $5. In the event of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

A Tuesday Bonus representative will call at the home of a winning contestant, or phone, the evening of each Tuesday Bonus day, between the hours of 6 and 7 and will award a $5 prize. If the contestant is not at home, he may call at The Farm Tribune office and receive his $5 award.

If the winner is at home to receive his $5 prize and can produce proof of purchase or payment on account that Tuesday Bonus day, (The latter to be from an individual store, in the amount of $5 or more, unless stated "balance of account") from a Tuesday Bonus store or stores, then he is eligible for a bonus award according to the following schedule:

If sales slips amount to more than $5 he will be awarded the entire bonus.

If sales slips amount to less than $5 he will be awarded one-half the entire bonus.

Whatever part of the award that is not awarded in any week, will be added to the next week's bonus. The $5 prize for the best entry will be paid regardless of whether the winner has a sales slip or not.

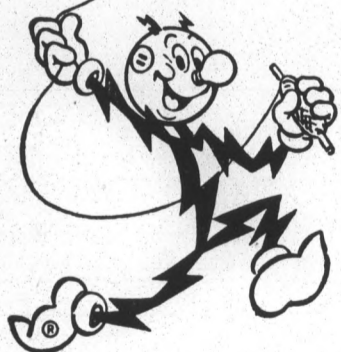

Entries will be judged principally on the basis of their sincerity and quality of thought. All entries become the property of Tuesday Bonus merchants and the decision of the judges is final.

Employees of The Farm Tribune and their immediate families are not eligible to enter the contest. Owners and employees of Tuesday Bonus Stores can win the additional awards only on sales slips from stores other than that with which they are connected.

For financial advice, you consult your banker because you appreciate the value of his experience.

In medical matters, this logic is even more important. Vitamins, which are medicinal products, are being peddled door to door by people without professional training.

For vitamins and medicines rely on your physician and pharmacist. Both are dedicated to the protection of your health.

WHO'S GONNA PAY FOR WHAT IN RECREATION PROGRAM? BEST SHOW IN YEARS WAS "OLD YELLER"

PORTERVILLE, March 6 — Lively discussion along the avenue this week centers around recreation, with city fathers talking things over with representatives of the city recreation commission, elementary and high school board members, park commission members and representatives of the Youth Coordinating Council.

Biggest item of concern, it would appear at the Tuesday city council meeting, is just who is going to pay for what, and how much, with each of the taxing agencies involved attempting to get just a little better deal than the other, but, in so far as city residents are concerned, all of these agencies are working with money from the same taxpayers.

Underlying talk is vision of a great play program, operated the year 'round by a paid director. No one has yet spelled out how the potential juvenile delinquent will be reached through a city recreation program (in the past this type of individual has not been reached to any great extent) and it would appear that some of the most ardent recreation people are thinking in terms of visions, not realities.

Mayor Les Hamilton handled the situation well in upholding the city's interests at the Tuesday council meeting.

Now, for "Old Yeller", the Walt Disney film that recently played Porterville: This picture drew 3,100 admissions on the Saturday that it ran — the greatest one-day crowd that Jim or Everett Howell recall in the history of the motion picture in Porterville. Which might prove that good movies still draw people away from their TV sets, particularly if said good movie is well publicized on TV.

Parking meters are going to appear on certain parking lots in Porterville, it would appear. City councilmen have agreed to lease the Ireton lot, for five years, at Putnam and Third, with certain provisions; 5-cent meters will probably be put on this lot, as well as on the "Baptist church" lot at Mill and Second, and on the lot back of the Molino theater.

Most of the residents of the avenue moved out to Woodville Saturday night for annual banquet of the Woodville chamber of commerce, that featured a sumptuous fried chicken dinner. It is reported that a group of Tulare residents, traveling by their most modern conveyance — ox team — finally arrived in Woodville late Tuesday night.

Death has come recently to several persons: Mrs. Mary Etta Smartt, a resident for 22 years; Mrs. Myrtle Van Emon, a native of Porterville; George Cole, a resident for 45 years; and Henry Landon, who came to Porterville in 1917.

Forshee Places Second In FFA Speech Contest

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6 — Gary Forshee, a member of the Porterville High School chapter of Future Farmers of America, placed second in the organization's annual public speaking contest for the Tulare and Kings county area.

Forshee spoke on "A Portrait of An American Farmer". Other schools represented in the contest were Delano, Exeter, Lindsay, Mt. Whitney, Orosi, Redwood, Strathmore and Woodlake.

Last year, Joe France of the Porterville chapter was winner in the California state contest and placed second in regional competition.

FFA Queen Is Crowned At Dance

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6 — Linda DePaoli was crowned sweetheart of the Porterville Future Farmer of America chapter at a dance sponsored by the group. She was crowned by Carol Lampert, last year's queen.

Attendants named were Elizabeth Forrester and Dorothy Hildebrand. The sweetheart and her attendants were presented with gifts by Richard Mead, chapter president, and the sweetheart will receive an FFA jacket.

A large number of first and second year students have submitted papers to the national Gregg shorthand penmanship contest, according to Mrs. Marjorie Bate, business department chairman.

The tests are given monthly to business students and other typing students at the high school so that they may earn civil service typing certificates which will qualify them to take other tests given for state positions.

Mrs. Marjorie Bate, chairman of the business education department, said the tests will be given monthly to high school students, and also will be given at the employment office for interested persons.

Last month, Patty Day, a senior, passed the senior award test, typing a net of 51 words a minute. Martha Gentry Hunter and Sally MacBean earned intermediate certificates for 54 - 59 words per minute; and Pat Brown, Carol Lampert, Ruth Ann Pritchett, Geneva Smithpeters, Mary Ellen Stone,

MULLER GETS SPECIAL AWARD AS SCHOLAR

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6—Francis J. Muller, Jr., a Porterville High school senior, has been awarded a certificate of merit for his outstanding performance in the 1957-58 National Merit Scholarship examinations, according to Principal E. A. Landgraf.

The certificates are awarded to less than one-half of the senior students in each state, and are awarded on the basis of high scores on two college aptitude tests.

Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Muller of Ducor, is among the 7,300 finalists in the current Merit Scholarship competition which began last October with the testing of 256,000 of the nation's most able high school seniors. Over 1,000 of the finalists will be awarded $5,000,000 in Merit Scholarships as a result of final judging now being conducted. Winners will be announced about May 1, Landgraf said.

The names of seniors winning certificates of merit will be sent to over 15,000 colleges, universities, and other scholarship-granting agencies for considerations for thousands of other scholarships, Landgraf said.

and Rosalie Simmons earned junior certificates for typing between 40 and 44 net words per minute.

California Cherry Pie Contest Champ

Carol Moffett, 16, South Gate, Calif., who baked her way to the state championship, admires her cherry pie baked in an Admiral electric range. Here is her winning recipe:

Cherry Pie

2 (16 oz.) cans frozen red cherries, thawed and drained (3 cups)
1/2 cup cherry juice
2/3 cup granulated sugar*
2-2/3 tablespoons cornstarch

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon red food coloring
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
pinch of salt

Stir cherry juice into cornstarch slowly to make a smooth mixture. Add butter or margarine. Cook over medium heat stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from heat, add sugar and salt. Stir until dissolved. Add cherries, flavoring and coloring. Set aside to cool while making crust. Pour cooled cherries into 9-inch pastry-lined pie plate. Interlace pastry strips, lattice fashion, over filling. Use 7 strips each way and press firmly into edge of crust. Trim ends of strips. Fold hanging bottom crust over strips and pinch together firmly into a smooth even ridge. Flute. Cover fluting of pie with a 2-inch strip of aluminum foil. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes, reduce temperature to 375° and continue baking for 30 minutes. Remove foil strip and bake another 10 minutes or until crust is golden brown.

*If canned cherries are used, increase sugar to 1-1/3 cups.

Crust

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1-1/4 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup shortening

4 to 5 tablespoons ice water
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Mix flour with salt in mixing bowl. Add shortening and cut into the flour with a pastry blender until particles are the size of corn meal and small peas. Add water gradually. Toss and mix lightly with a spatula to cut in water. Dough should just barely hold together. Turn onto a piece of waxed paper; with hands under paper press together to form a ball. Cut dough in two portions, one slightly larger for the bottom crust. Roll bottom crust on a lightly floured pastry canvas to 1/8 inch thickness and large enough to extend 1-1/2 inches beyond a 9-inch inverted pie plate. Trim with a pastry wheel. Fit dough into pie plate without stretching. Spread the bottom and sides of crust with the melted butter. Roll remaining dough to 1/8 inch thickness and cut in 1/2 inch strips with a pastry wheel for the lattice top.

Students Get Practical Course As Teacher Aids

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6 — Six senior students at Porterville High school are serving as teacher's aids during the second semester in a program sponsored jointly by Principal James McAuley of the Olive Street school.

The course, a two-period class each day, was started three years ago at the suggestion of Miss Mary Sprott, high school vice principal for girls, and was approved by the trustees of the Porterville Elementary School district. Students receive one-half credit for assisting master teachers in the conduct of their classrooms. Enrollment is limited to persons who plan to become teachers.

Students participating in the program this semester for the first time are Betty Gurley, Carolun Daley, Martha Smith, Darlene Boone and Shirley Lewis. Carolyn Goucher is taking the course for the second semester, and is working with the handicapped class.

students making the trip were those in advanced auto mechanics II and III, and all students in Auto mechanics I with a grade of C and above.

COUNTER

"A friend told me to look you up," said a tall, middle-aged man, as he introduced himself. "I want the right kind of car insurance. He said that's the only kind you sell."

"He's correct," I said with a smile. "What's your problem?"

"I guess I went at it wrong last time," the man replied. "You see I have a passenger car and a pickup truck. I bought them at different times, and the insurance from two different companies.

"One day, my boy had the pickup and my wife had my car. I needed to go downtown so I borrowed a car from my neighbor. I wasn't used to his gear-shift arrangement and was thinking about that, more than my driving. I came into an intersection too fast to stop, and hit another car. No one was hurt, but the accident did $268 worth of damages.

"Unfortunately, the neighbor had let his insurance expire. He told me that, but I said I had insurance and didn't give it a second thought. When I submitted the loss, both companies turned it down. They contended the 'Drive Other Car' provisions apply only if they have ALL the auto insurance."

"That's a tough break," I said, "but I've seen other cases like that. You're lucky the damages were small. Naturally, no company wants to meet a claim it isn't obligated to pay.

"I'd suggest you put BOTH vehicles with the same company. And we'll see to it that the Drive Other Car feature is included."

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

SINCE THE Porterville city manager-purchasing agent, Charles Cummings, has not seen fit to answer certain questions that we have propounded, we'll take a fling at answering one of them ourselves.

NOT, CERTAINLY, the question of who tried to bribe him, because we have no information on that.

BUT CONCERNING the question of why the city paid $420 for a printing order that is now being offered to the city for $125, we feel that someone should point out that Mr. Cummings did not make this purchase. The printing order was for tax statements used in the office of the Porterville city clerk-assessor, at that time Lionel B. Hemphill. He made the purchase, not Mr. Cummings. The much cheaper price came to light just recently when it became necessary to reorder.

DOES THAT answer the question? Perhaps, but only to bring forth another question.

WHY DIDN'T Mr. Cummings make the original purchase? The city charter says that his job as city purchasing agent is to buy for the various city departments; he is being paid to serve as city purchasing agent (break down on the $814 per month that the city pays Mr. Cummings is this: 75 per cent for city manager, 25 per cent for city purchasing agent) yet in this case, he was not performing his duty as purchasing agent.

WHY?

AGAIN WE state that in the interest of efficient city government and economical expenditure of tax money, city councilmen should thoroughly check the policies and procedures of the office of city purchasing agent over a period of the last four years.

IF THIS is done, we predict that they will find considerable variance between actual functioning of the office and city charter specifications for the office.

BASICALLY, WE people of Porterville have been paying Mr. Cummings to serve as our city purchasing agent. Why was Lionell B. Hemphill doing any purchasing? Why wasn't the city purchasing agent done the buying as the city charter says he should, and as we are paying him to do?

PIXLEY IRRIGATION VOTE MARCH 25

PIXLEY, March 6 — March 25 has been set by the Tulare county board of supervisors as date for an election concerning formation of the Pixley Irrigation district with a five-man board of directors.

Prior to setting of the formation election date, supervisors turned down petitions asking exclusion of South Lake Farms property and Frank Hesse property from the proposed district.

Voting against the exclusion petitions were: Supervisors Ray Longley, Rodgers L. Moore and Malcolm Crawford; voting for the exclusion were: Supervisors Harry Perry and Halver Haddock.

PORTERVILLE, Mar. 6 — Following the recent February meeting of the board of directors, Finance and Thrift company announced that Ralph Baker, auditor, is one of eight company executives who were made assistant vice-presidents.

The Board's action reflects the growth and expansion of the company, a member of the American Industrial Bankers association and of the California Association of Industrial Loan companies, since it was established in 1925. The present organization includes 12 locally owned offices, serving the needs of small loan borrowers and thrift account investors throughout the San Joaquin valley from ALPAUGH, March 6 — Directors of the Alpaugh Irrigation district have started negotiations to secure a $1,500,000, interest-free federal loan to finance construction of a pipeline project within the district.

At present, the district transports its water through open ditches. It is estimated that a 40 per cent loss is incurred through percolation and evaporation.

U.S. Chamber Favors Postal Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6 — Immediate postal rate increases to reverse the trend toward larger and larger postal deficits, have been recommended to Congress by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

While the chamber did not propose specific rates, it pointed out that the five cent rate for first-class, non-local mail, recommended in President Eisenhower's Budget message, would more nearly meet the goal of a balanced postal budget than the four cent rate proposed by the House. Revenues from the House bill would fall short of the goal by an estimated $175 million the first year.

FISH FOR FEATHERS

By

It hasn't been made clear that the new fishing regulations adopted by the fish and game commission last Friday do not, repeat, do not become effective until Saturday, March 29, 1958.

For instance it will not be legal to use live minnows in Pine Flat reservoir until March 29 and then the species of minnows will be restricted to the fathead, golden shiner or mudducker. Live minnows for bait are legal in Millerton lake now but there is no restriction as to the species of minnows except that carp or goldfish may not be used at any time in any place.

What applies to Millerton applies to Redinger lake (formerly Dam 7) but beginning March 29 Redinger will again be legally classified as a trout lake and closed to fishing except during the trout season. However, by a slip up, Redinger is now open to the taking of any fish present including trout and will remain so until March 29 and then it will be closed until the opening of the trout season on May 3 and the use of minnows will be legal.

Lots of valley anglers go to Lake Almanor in Plumas county and it was declared a year 'round fishing lake for all species of fish including trout but not starting until the opening of the regular trout season. This change was made at the request of the organized sportsmen in the area but the commission tacked a provision on the order that no catchable size or sub-catchable trout will be stocked in Almanor as long as it remained a year 'round fishing lake.

The Kings river from the dam downstream to the CVP canal is now closed to all fishing except during the trout season. Starting March 29 this closure will be extended to Highway 180 crossing at Centerville.

Again on the March "f-day" the San Joaquin river from the dam at Friant to Highway 41 crossing will be closed to all fishing except during the trout season.

Starting March 29 it will be

Pest Control For Strawberries

legal to fish for catfish at night in Tulare county west of the Friant-Kern canal. Reports from this county indicate the commercial fishing ponds at Springville are producing lots of bluegill, catfish and bass, mostly on worms and flies.

Fishing in the White's Bridge slough area has been excellent with many limits of bass being caught, several weighing six to eight pounds. Don Pedro reservoir has started to provide both large and small mouth bass including one eight pounder landed the other day. Some trout being taken from this lake down by the dam.

California growers have 3,420 acres of Black, Boysen and Young berries for harvest in 1958, one per cent below last year.

Junior Grand Livestock Exposition, Cow Palace, San Francisco, is set for March 28 - April 2.

State Would Lose Money On New Tax Proposal

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 6 — The proposed 1958 initiative for revising California's tax system would mean a net loss in state revenue of at least $36 million, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood has stated.

Under the proposal, the state would lose $200 million in sales tax revenue and gain $164 million from increased personal income tax payments by taxpayers in the middle and upper income brackets, Kirkwood said. Subtract the gain from the loss and you have a net loss in state income of $36 million.

Total storage stock of potatoes held by growers and dealers on February 1 was 15 per cent below the same date a year ago.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams

32nd District
California State Legislature

Making "Safe Ways" out of our multi-million dollar California system of freeways is not only a headache for the men who design and build them, but is also a considerable problem to your legislature. Sad experience has demonstrated that our splendid freeways, no matter how well engineered to high standards of safety, can still become partners in crime with that popular but lethal weapon, the automobile driver at the wheel.

At the 1957 session, the Joint Interim Committee on Highway Problems was created by action on both houses, and was authorized to study major problems connected with our state highway system. A subcommittee of the main group was later established to investigate problems connected with operations of various types of motor vehicles on highways, especially that of safe driving. This subcommittee on highway operations held its first hearing in January, and its second just before we reconvened for the second part of the current budget session.

At the first hearing, traffic experts from all parts of our vast state united in maintaining that to drive safely on a modern freeway requires a special type of knowledge of every driver who must do it. They agreed that such knowledge can be transmitted through education, but also that too many untrained drivers kill themselves and others before they acquire the knowledge of freeway safe driving principles. These experts explained that there are three major causes of accidents on freeways: 1) driving at excessive speed; 2) changing lanes too sharply; and 3) following other vehicles too closely.

A number of possible remedies were suggested to the subgroup, but it was admitted that all of them together would provide only a partial solution. One was that changing lanes be prohibited on long, uninterrupted stretches of freeway. Still another called for enforcement of all traffic laws on freeways by the state highway patrol, rather than by officers of every municipality through which they have been built. But all who testified to the importance of more and better education of all drivers on the do's and don'ts of safe driving on freeways.

The subcommittee's recent meeting, in view of this commonly accepted need for more and better education was directed to the problem of reaching the driving public with an effective story of how to drive most safely on freeways. All the various means of communicating with the public — newspapers, radio, TV, motion pictures, outdoor advertising — were ingited to suggest ways and means. Organizations having a broad public interest in traffic safety, from Parent-Teacher groups to the Automobile Manufacturers Association were asked to help work out an educational program. Many fine, pertinent ideas were produced which will undoubtedly be woven into a really effective program by the subcommittee.

Other groups, such as the optometrists, in addition to promising help with the educational program, had suggestions regarding improvement in such areas as better freeway lighting, more readable freeway directional signs, a more easily recognized system of warning signs — a point-up, triangular yellow STOP sign; for instance. The subcommittee, and later, your full legislature, will have much valuable material upon which it can base really sound legislation for greater safety on our system of freeways.

THE OLD DAYS

MAY 1900

VISALIA—Stephen Barton, one of the early-day settlers of Tulare county, but now a resident of Kern county, is visiting in this vicinity. Mr. Barton, a few years ago, settled on a piece of land on Kern river near old Keysville and afterwards staked out a town there and named it Isabella. The place is now quite a village, with a post-office, church and school.

PORTERVILLE — J. D. McGee has resigned the position of manager of the Pioneer hotel.

Dave Udell, of Rockford, has purchased the Woodville creamery and the creamery is now for sale.

The Dillonwood Lumber company has been organized at Hanford to operate the Dillon mill on Upper Tule river.

Contrary to a statement printed last week, no effort will be made to form a county sanitary district. As the county ordinance now stands the man who wants to open up a saloon needs only the names of seven freeholders on his petition, but we want to change that and make him get fifty per cent of the regular voters in the precinct where he wants to do business. Petitions will be circulated through the county asking the supervisors to give us a chance to vote on the question this fall.

Irrigation Pipe
prevents water loss, cuts pumping costs

Whatever your system, you'll find that the surest way to get low-cost, trouble-free irrigation is to install Transite Pipe.

In sprinkler irrigation, underground Transite feeder mains will assure an adequate supply of water whenever needed. Transite resists corrosion, inside and out; deposits, due to tuberculation, will not build up. As a result, rated pressures are maintained, no fuel or power is wasted by overworked pumps. Tight joints prevent water seepage.

In surface irrigation, too, for tail-water pump-back, and for supply service wherever water is piped to the area of application, Transite will save all-important water, reduce operating costs. Installation is simple; specially designed couplings assure tight joints and line flexibility. And their rubber ring joints stay tight . . . are unaffected by wetting and drying out between applications. Transite Pipe is strong and durable, resists shock and vibration.

J. POST WILLIAMS ASKS REELECTION AS COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

VISALIA, March 6 — Tulare County Superintendent of Schools J. Post Williams this week announced that he will seek re-election for a third term in the post he has held since 1949.

The veteran educator has held the position since he was appointed in 1949 to fill an unexpired term. He was elected to his first full term in 1950. The voters of Tulare county returned him to the office of a second full term in 1954.

In announcing his candidacy for re-election, Mr. Williams said that he will continue to work hard to see that every child in the county receives an equal opportunity for education. "In the last several years," he said, "we have arranged classes for handicapped — those with cerebral palsy, the crippled, the partially sighted, the mentally retarded, and emotionally disturbed — as well as classes for the gifted student."

Tulare county is one of four California counties designated to undertake a special program for the emotionally disturbed.

Aware that the nation has become particularly education conscious in recent months, Mr. Williams said, "We are emphasizing the necessity of training in the three R's and science, and we also feel that an enriched program of education is important to our future citizens."

Mr. Williams pledged to continue working closely with parents and other adults interested in education. "We, of the County Schools office, have worked closely with PTA organizations and will continue to do so."

The incumbent candidate, his wife, Margaret, and four children, Joe, Patricia, Ernest and Frank, make their home in Visalia. They have lived in Tulare county since 1948 when Mr. Williams was appointed as a general supervisor in the County Schools office.

Prior to moving to Tulare county, he was a music and science instructor in Texas and Wyoming, a high school principal and district superintendent in Cedarville. He received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Colorado and a master's degree at Stanford.

He is listed in Who's Who in American Education and Who's Who in the West. An active church man, he is the western chairman of the Bishop's committee on Laymen's Work of the Protestant Episcopal church.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary education fraternity; the National Congress of Parents and Teachers association; Phi Alpha Sigma, the Visalia chamber of commerce, the County-wide YMCA council, the Mt. Whitney area council of the Boy Scouts, the Commonwealth Club of California, and the Masonic, Eastern Star, and Royal Arch Mason lodges.

An article by Mr. Williams on "Personal Discipline" was published in the School Board Journal.

In some ways this month is a relief to us lazy gardeners because we've put off most things until it's too late and we don't have to do them anyway. Jobs like pruning the fruit trees, spraying dormant trees and plants, and planting most of the bare-root things.

There's still a thing or two left, however, and we're just mean enough to remind your wife to remind you to do them. The weeds can still be oiled, burr clover can be sprayed out of the lawn, roses and shade trees can be planted from containers, and everything except camellias can be fertilized.

If you want some colorful, fairly permanent plants — for little money — you should try the perennial varieties. Things like phlox, transval daisies, shasta daisies, delphinium, marguerites, and gazania. These are mostly tough and dependable weeds that bloom for days on end with little care.

If you have a shady spot that needs a really glamorous out-of-this-world flowering shrub, we suggest rhododendron. These we have in large plants, loads of buds, several colors, and priced so every time we sell one we take the rest of the day off. They start at three twenty five and end at a price that will ruin even the best ten dollar bill.

We still have a few, almost out of season, bargains so bring your trading material and come on down to "E" Street north of Olive.

this work.

Indications now are that spring scenery will be at its best for the two-day rodeo, and persons attending are invited to "come early and sit a spell" on both days.

There is plenty of space surrounding the rodeo arena for picnic lunches; food will be available on the grounds. With a backdrop of the snow-capped Sierra, and with the arena surrounded by green, rolling hills, the Springville show has perhaps the nation's most colorful rodeo setting.

Plenty of action is promised for the two-day event, as professional cowboys will be competing for world championship points in saddle and bare back bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, steer wrestling and bull riding.

Providing opposition for competing cowboys will be the tough rodeo string of Johnny Jackson, formerly of Carson City, Nevada, but now a resident of Tulare county.

Sponsoring the show is the newly-formed Springville Rodeo association, a non-profit organization composed of the various civic and farm organizations in Springville, and headed by Monte Gifford.

Opening the two-day show will be a western parade through Springville on April 12, at 10 a.m.
